THE TRAMP PROBLEM.

Oakland Will Solve it with a Chain-

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15 .- (Special Dispatch.) The Ordinance Committee of the Oakland City Council decided tonight o recommend a novel solution of the ramp problem. Oakland swarms with vagrants, and the jati and city prison are frequently crowded. The committee pro-poses that a chain-gang be formed, and that all the tramps and vagrants under arrest be put to work on the streets. At ent the city's street fund is very low and the streets have suffered greatly b the recent rains. The Ordinance Committee thinks the chain proposition would be beneficial from two points of view. It will reduce the number of tramps and help the city's finances. It was decided to recommend to the Council the establishment of the gang. Under the method of procedure followed by the Council the ecommendation by the committee is equivalent to final action, and so Oakland will not be the paradise for tramps in the future that it has been in the past.'

The circumstances surrounding the case make it one of unusual interest. Gen. Ben Hardín Helm, the husband of Mrs. Helm, was one of the most gallant soldiers in the Confederate army. Mrs. Helm, the postmistress, who was removed today, was a younger sister of Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, who was a Todd. Col. The Right of Probate Judges to Grant Divorces Questioned. ated Press Leased-wire Service.

GUTHRIE (Okla..) Jan. 15.—In the Supreme Court today a motion was granted for the hearing of the celebrated Irwin divorce suit. This is the case in which the question of the right of probate judges to grant divorces was raised and the decision of which invalidated over a thousand divorces granted by such judges throughout the Territory, involving hundreds of people from every State in the Union.

Rich divorcees who had been granted separation have contributed a large sum and employed the most eminent lawyers in the Southwest to secure a rehearing. If they lose, it is their intention to push a bill through the Legislature legalizing the divorces in question.

MOSES A. GUNST IS OUSTED BY

An Opinion by Attorney Fitzgerald that Police Commissioners Hold Office at the Pleasure of ssociated Press Leased-wire Service.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 15.—Gov. Budo today had an opinion from Atty.-Gen Fitzgerald, stating that he had the power to remove from office any member of the board of San Francisco Police Commissioners. He immediately removed Moses A. Gunst and appointed Stewar

Menzies. The following is the opinion:
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 15, 1895.
To Hon. James H. Budd, Governor of the State of California—Dear Sir: of the State of California—Dear Sir: Replying to your communication of this day as to "What is the power of the Governor with reference to the removal of an appointee on the Board of Police Commissioners of the city and county of San Francisco and to fill by appointment the vacancy caused by such removal?" I would respectfully state that the Board of Police Commissioners of said city and county was created by the act approved April 1, 1878. This act, among other things, provides that the district judges therein named are empowered and required "to choose three citizens of said city and county, householders of good repute, without respect to their politics who, together with the Chief of Police, should constitute the Board of Police Commissioners of said city and county. All vacancies shall be filled by the aforesaid judges making the appointments." There is no term of office prescribed for these officers by this act nor by any other-law of this State. The appointing power provided for by this act was abolished by the Constitution and no pointing power provided for by this act was abolished by the Constitution and no express provision having been made either by the Constitution or by statute pro-viding for the exercise of such power by any other officer, the question then to be determined, is: Where does this power Vest?

determined, is: Where does this power vest?

Sec. 16 of art. 20 of the Constitution provides that, "When the term of any officer or commissioner is not provided for in this Constitution, the term of such officer or commissioner may be declared for in this Constitution, the term of such officer or commissioner may be declared for commissioner shall hold his position as such officer or commissioner during the pleasure of the authority making the appointment; but in no case shall such term exceed four years." This section of the Constitution was construed by the Supreme Court of this State, in the recent case of Higgins vs. Cole (100 Cal., 260-64,) in which it was said, "that, as the term of office was not fixed by the Constitution nor declared by law, it must be held that appellant's term continued only during the pleasure of the appointing power, and that he was rightly removed." Upon this subject sec. 878 of the Political Code further provides that "Every office of which the duration is not fixed by law is held at the pleasure of the appointing power." From this section it will be seen that the Legislature, in omitting to prescribe the term of office of such commissioner, has left the duration thereof to the pleasure of the appointing power. office of such commissioner, has i the appointing power.

In order, then, to determine in whom the power of appointment vests in this instance, the original authority to make such appointment having been abolished, as stated, we must look first to sec. 4 of art. 20 of the Constitution, which provides that "All officers or commissioners, whose election or appointment is not provided for by this Constitution, and all officers or commissioners, whose offices or duties may hereafter be created by law, shall be elected by the people, or appointed, as the Legislature may direct." As neither the Constitution nor the statute prescribes any express mode for making such appointment, the provisions of sec. 875 of the Political Code must necessarily control. That section reads as follows: "Every officer, the mode of whose appointment is not prescribed by the Constitution or statutes, must be appointed by the Governor." In view of these provisions of the Constitution and the statutes, I am of opinion that you, as Governor, have the power to remove "an appointee on the Board of Police Commissioners of the city and county of San Francisco, and to fill by appointment the vacancy caused by such removal."

Respectfully yours.

"As to the appointment of a Police Commissioner by ex-Gov. Markham, it is impossible now to revise his action and I have not had time to examine and cannot express an opinion on the question of the rights of the present Governor to interfere. Probably the adoption of a new charter for San Francisco would be a solution of the whole difficulty of the present system of handling the police. Among the various legitimate subjects for legislative investigation the transaction between Mr. Burns and the ex-Governor seems to me investigation the transaction between Mr. Burns and the ex-Governor seems to me one of the most important. It should be thoroughly probed. The delay in issuing or refusing to issue a warrant for Mr. Huntington calls for prompt action. But the election fraums and the alleged fraudulent practices in every department of the municipal and State governments are broadly the abuses which should be laid bare to the bedrock and we shall start in with the fixed resolution to reach the principals as well as the intermediaries and the apparently insignificant tools employed in every treasonable interference with the fundamental rights of the people."

The First Trial of the Kind to Com Before Congress in Years.

Chairman Wilson Does Some Advo-cating in the House—Mr. Reed's Sarcastic Remarks—The Senate Doings.

Associated Press Leaned-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Congress was given a decided surprise today by the Committee on Judiciary which decided by a vote of 7 to 8 to report the resolution for the impeachment of Judge Augustus J. Ricks of Clayeland for malfeasance in office. Not for many years has a United States Judge been called before the bar of the Senate to defend his right to wear the ermine of office against criminal charges, and only three or four times in the history of the government has an impeachment trial of a member of the Federal judiciary een conducted.

Few members had looked into the harges preferred by the Central Labor Union of Cleveland, the accuser of Judge Ricks, that, while sitting on the bench, he paid to himself fees which he claimed he had previously earned as clerk of the court and to which it is now ascertained he was not entitled. The number of years which have clapsed since the transaction and the contention of the Judge's friends which have elapsed since the transaction and the contention of the Judge's friends that the proceedings were inspired by a ruling prejudicial to the interests of labor which he made recently, tended to lessen the interest which would originally have been taken in the case. Now that the Judiciary Committee has deemed the matter of sufficient gravity to warrant impeachment, it has become suddenly a decided sensation.

The friends of Judge Ricks declare that there are large possibilities that the impeachment may not be undertaken. They depend on members who were absent from the stormy committee meeting, today, to join them Friday in voting to substitute a minority report for the one which Mr. Bailey will prepare and which will be a strong arraignment of the Judge if couched in the tenor of his speeches today. There is doubt of the parliamentary possibility of such a stroke, but the short time remaining to Congress in spired the belief they will go over the next Congress. In that event the peachment will not probably be meeting as the decision today was gractically on party lines, the Republicans supporting Ricks.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The House Judiciary Committee today decided to report a resolution for the impeachment of Judge Ricks of Cleveland. The vote was: For 7, against, 6. The vote was nearly on party lines, but one Republican voted for impeachment and one Democrat against it. Mr. Bailey will present a majority report to the committee and Mr. Broderick the minority report. The supporters of Judge Ricks hope that the decision will be reversed. Mr. Allen of Nebraska spoke of the fact that Mr. Gorman and the Senator from lows (Mr. Allison) were now announcing to the country their readiness to get together on a plan for raising revenue, although the parties of these two leaders had been irreconcilably separated on the revenue question for twenty-five years. He said that a considerable element on the Democratic side of the Senate were as essentially protectionists as the Senators on the other side. It was merely a difference of degree in their protection. This common feeling was the reason that the Senate had witnessed yesterday the remarkable spectacle of Democrats and Republicans "falling on each other's necks and indulging in a love-feast."

Mr. Allen yielded for the submission of a message from the President concerning the arrest of two Japanese students by China while they were under the protection of the United States; then, resuming, he urged that the two old parties had served their periods of usefulness, and that the Populist party, representing the masses, was the party of the future. It had cast 1,000,000 votes in 1893 and 2,000,000 in 1894, showing the phenomenal growth of 100 per cent. It had not "vagaries," as the Senators had assorted, unless it was the sub-treasury scheme, and this was not believed in by the great majority of Populists.

Mr. Allen read the Populist platform adopted at Omaha, and, in commenting on it, stated that the Populist believed in the election of United States Senators by the people.

"That doctrine," interrupted Mr. George of Mississippid "was any the election of United Scientific Property of Mr. George of Mississippi, "was embodied in a resolution by a Democratic House before the Populists were thought of. Mr. George took the Populist platform and awaited an opportunity to comment on it. A sharp controversy arose when Mr. George secured recognition to point out that the platform submitted by Mr. Allen was not the authorized platform of the Populist party; that I was made up out of the Senator's head and that it omitted the sub-treasury scheme and government ownership of railroads.

Mr. Allen, however, inisted that he had not claimed the paper submitted was the Populist platform.

Mr. George commented sharply on the action of a Senator in giving the authority of his name to a platform purporting to embody the Populist doctrine and yet carefully and designedly omitting government ownership of railroads and other doctrines adopted by the Populist National Convention. There was a spirited exchange between the Senators as Mr. George insisted on holding up the Senator to the fact he had undertaken to issue his own Populist platform and as Mr. Allen charged Mr. George with "hedging and dodging" the galleries and the few Senators present listened with evident amusement. Continuing his speech, Mr. Allen defended the Populist party against the charge of socialism and anarcay.

The sorrow-stricken wives, daughters and other relatives of the imprisoned miners have been gathered around the pit heal, facing the bitterly cold wind since shortly after noon yesterday, and many have been without food. The water so constantly fluctuates that the watchers are well-nigh discouraged. They found the bottom of the shaft choked with piles of timber swept there by torrents of water which poured into the mine. All this timber must be removed before the entombed men can be reached, but the ceaseless pumping does not seem to materially affect the level.

The greatest fear is expressed that the water will undermine the galleries and that there will be a cave-in: The rescuers work with difficulty, standing in four feet of water, and only fifteen yards of progress was made during the night. A hundred miners have arrived at Big Lake colliery from other collieries, and they voluntaered to go down and assist in the rescue. Fresh gangs of men are thus supplied to go down every hour.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 15.—A special to local paper from Jefferson City says that a local paper from Jefferson City says that the State capital is agitated by the discovery that it will have to fight an organized lobby sent here in the interest of the Joint and concurrent resolution to remove the Capitol. Bills have already been introduced in both branches of the Legislature for a change of location, and it is said that Sedalia, which has been fighting for twenty years to secure a vote of the people on such a proposition, is again behind the present deal.

After formally tendering his resignation to the Governor, also his services gratis to assist the new Attorney-General in cases pending in the Supreme Court, he states:

"Ont of respect for the good opinion of my fellow-citizens. I feel constrained to state the reasons which have caused me, state the reasons which have caused me, after mature deliberation, to send you my resignation at this time. Only a few days ago the statement appeared in a newspaper published in Phoenix that I had combined with Secretary C. M. Bruce and the United States Marshal, W. K. I at once wrote to the editor of that paper requesting a correction of the statement and informing him that while you and I have differed radically upon many public matters, our personal upon many public matters, our personal relations were still friendly and that I would consider it dishonorable on my part in the extreme to undertake to injure you as charged, while continuing to hold office as your anounitee.

He then recounts his carnest, diligent work for Arizona by stopping abuses in public service, but that for a year past he has struggled against overwhelming odds. he has struggled against overwhelming odds, owing to want of the Governor's support, which crippled his usefulness. He throws light on political history as follows:

"In April last year, the Secretary of the Interior, Hon. I denomed the charge as ridiculous and unworthy of the slightest consideration. I told you of the charge in the confident belief that it had no substantial-foundation."

Hensy then charges the Governor with secretly supporting Murphy, the Republican candidate for Congress, who was charged by the Democracy with unlawful scandalous appropriation and expenditure of public funds while Governor. Also that Gov. Hughes, driven by necessity, surren-

"PAPA FRITZ'S" WRATH.

He Takes His Heiress Away from the Man She Married. s-collated Press Leased-wire Service.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 15.—A month ago

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 15.—A month ago Gertrude Schliesinger was a belie of Harlem, a suburb of this city. She was pretty, stylish, had bright prespects and many admirers. She was heiress to the property of Fritz Schliesinger, a prosperous German, who has no small influence in the village, Gertrude, however, cared not for the village, youth. "Papa Fritz" had told her that "mit his geld, by und by, he makes der match mit his Gertie und a German prince, aind it."

But by and by James Marshall of Kansas City came to Harlem. He was considered a smooth article, but he did not take with Fritz nor the conventional people of Harlem. He wore a high hat and a long-tailed coat and Gertrude Schliesinger liked him. A few days after his appearance Gertrude disappeared and Marshall was also found missing. The next day Marshall sent word from Kansas City to "Papa Fritz", that he and Gertrude had been married and desired forgiveness. "Papa Fritz," boiling with anger, came to Kansas City and found the couple. He drove Marshall away and triumphantiy carried Gertie home with him.

This morning Marshall carried his tale of woe to police headquarters, but as he is for concillating "Papa Fritz" and getting possession of his bride after wards, no relief could be offered him.

A Big Relief Train.

ATLANTA (Ga.,) Jan. 15.—The success of the Nebraska relief movement in Georgia, headed by ex-Gov. Northen, is demonstrated. When the train was made up this afternoon it exceeded all expectations. Twenty cars, including two cars of rice sent by citizens of Washington, N. C., made up the train. It looks as if another train will shortly be made up, as a result of the impetus given to the first attempt.

THE CASE OF THE ALLEGED JAI

American Consuls and Their Author ify to Protect the Mikado's Sub-jects in China+Treaty Pro-visions Nullified.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The President today sent to the Senate the correspondence in the case of the two Japanese spies, together with a letter from the Secretary of State, in which it stated that American consuls had no authority as far as using their good offices to protect Sapanese in Ohina, except when the secontion demanded.

It was clearly stated to Minister health to Minister.

It was clearly stated to Minister Denby by Minister of Foreign Affairs Matsu that during the progress of the war China's subjects in Japan were to be in direct jurisdiction of Japanese courts and military authorities, and the treaty provisions to the contrary were uncessarily abrogated by the war situation. Thir, of course, carried with it the status of Japanese subjects, in China. The letter further states that there is scarcely any doubt that the supposed students were apies.

THE PORT ARTHUR MASSACRES. VANCOUVER (B. C.,) Jan. 15.—Amorg the passengers by the steamer Empress of Japan was Frederick Villers, war corthe passengers by the steamer Empress of Japan was Frederick Villers, war correspondent and artist, who arrived straight from the seat of war. When asked by the Arsociated Press correspondent regarding the truth of the stories of the massacie at Port Arthur, Villers said that, unfortunstelly, it was only too true. On the 21st, when Port Arthur was captured, Oyama decided the Japanese should occupy the tolyn, and the Yamagis Suma Regiment wan ordered to perform this duty. They effered, Villers of the London Standard, Creelman of the New York World and Cowan of the London Times being with them. Just inside the gate there were three mutilated heads of Japanese, stuck on poles, and no sconer had the troops seen these than they lost all cet-rol, and indiscriminately butchered everybody they found.
Oyama had issued a proclamation that none of the inhabitants should be molested, so the natives were standing in groups on the streets, watching the entry of the soldiers. They were driven like sheep into groups and shot down in cold blood. That, was kept up all of the first day. On the second day the soldiers broke open stores and houses and shot down men, women and childen, who were in hidding. No one was sparred, youth nor old age did exit even-escape.

The third and fourth day the butchery continued, officers not even attempting to check the men. Many of the bodies were horribly mutilated. On the third day of the massacre the Japanese officers recognized that they had made a mistake and attempted to conceal the butchery by throwing clothes of Chinese soldiers over throwing clothes of Chinese soldiers over the bodies. One officer pointed out a body to Villiers, stating that it was a Chinese soldier, but on examination it was found to be a little boy with a pair of soldier's pants, thrown over him. Villiers. Creelman and Cown witnessed the killing of many and villiers has taken several enap-shots which bear undeniable evidence of the truth of the butchery. When shown statements sent out by the Japanese Legation at Washington justifying the massacre, Villiers said it was impossible to justify it as no resistance was offered. The first day might have been excussible, as the soldiers lost all control of themselves on seeing the mutilated bodies, but, after they shad time to reflect, there was no excuse.

Villiers says that the town had a population of from 1000 to 2008 and but thirty-five or forty were left alive and these-had lickets signed by Japanese officers, signifying that they were not to be killed. It was a terrible sight and made them very depressed as the correspondents had formed a high opinion of the Japanese from their previous conduct. At Kin-Chow the infabilants welcomed thom and called them "Angels from Heaven," and everywhere else they had acted in a civilized manner. Their conduct at Port Arthur, however, showed that they were still savages.

De Guerville, the Herald correspondent, was strongly denounced by Villiers, who claims that he is in the pay of the Japanese government to defend them for their conduct at Port Arthur. De Guerville, he says, was not at the front at all, but stayed with Field. Marshal Oyama in the rear, living in comfort and obtaining hear-say reports. He also denounces him for informing the Japanese government that Creelman was a Chinese spy, as thereby their lives were endangered. He promises to expose him on his arrival in New York. All De Guerville did, says Villiers, was to collect trophies and drink wine. Wei-Hai-Wei, Villiers says, will be captured this winter, but Peking will not be reached. Creelman returns home on the next Empr and has no war news of interest. Frederick Villiers, war correspondent, has returned. He says De Guerville, of the Herald, plotted against the life of James Creelman, of the World, and says that he will drive him from the New York Press Club and the city.

Villiers confirms Creelman's story about the butchery at Port Arthur, and says that, after the winter is over, he looks for the interference of Russia and perhaps England. When Villiers and Creelman were taken prisoners by the Japanese they were liberated by English intervention.
Villiers says the proofs are clear that De Guerville tried to betray Creelman into the hands of the Japanese and have him killed as a spy.

Immediately the father and brother started for the schoolhouse, the father with a knife and the brother with an iron. There was a general fight on their arrival. Crowley was cut, the father and brother of Hufford were beaten and knocked down a flight of stairs, and young Hufford escaped during the excitement.

Death of a Welshwoman Who Had Seen Stirring Times.

Associated Fress Lessed-wire Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Gwen Davies, who had ceached the age of nearly 101 years, died at the heme of her son-in-law, Edward Lewis, No. 738 Bast One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, on Saturday. Mrs. Davies was born on a farm that is now covered by Lake Vyrwny, the water reservoir for the city of Liverpool. The lake is in Montgomeryshire. North Wales, and under its dammed-up waters rest the bones of her Ancewors, for her fathers were good old farmers of the ancient type, and when the valley was dammed the old graveyard was comented over, and was soon lost to sight under the accumulating waters.

Mrs. Davies was the daughter of Evan Davies and Allen Jones, and was born February 22, 1794. When 23 years old she married another Davies. She had twelve children, of whom nine are still alive, and she has a regiment of grand and great-grandchildren. Her death was just the dying out of a life that had done its duty, and up to the last the old dame was perfectly conscious. Though she had been in this country for fifty years, she spoke hardly any English. Despite her old age, she had not failed in any of her faculties, and her sight was as good as that of a girl of 18 years. She could remember when naughty children were frightened by the threat that "Boney" would come and take them off to France. She used to tell of the rejoicing over the battles of Waterloo and Trafalgar, and the triumphant return of the Twenty-seventh Royal Weish Fusileers; of the days of the regency: of the death of King George III. William IV's short reign, and the accession of the present Queen.

Operations of One William S. Brewer an ex-Employee Clever Detec-tive Work of the Chicago Headquarters.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service. CHICAGO, Jan. 15 .- In its expose of the schemes and crimes of small press associations to get the news of the Associated Press before its publication, the Evening Post says:
"It is now some eight months since a prominent railroad man called at the Chiago office of the Associated Press and stated that he had received a request for a pass from one W. S. Brewer, who signed himself as 'general manager of the Pan-American Association.' The gentleman said he had never heard of Brewer, and wanted some information about him. letter sheet on which the request was written has this caption: "'Pan-American News Association, in-"The Associated Press people had heard of Brewer. They had known for some time that their news was being stolen from the leased wires. This visit of the railroad official revived the suspicions previously entertained against Brewer, and viously entertained against Brewer, and an investigation of his methods of obtain-ing news was commenced. Clews were ob-tained and followed, and, after much hard tained and followed, and, after much hard work, a gang of news thieves was uncovered, the most skillful in the country, they being assisted by a notorious wire-tapper, the cleverest man in his line, perhaps, in the world. By tapping the wires of the Associated Press Brewer got his news cheap, and therefore could afford to furnish it 'at low rates.'

"How Brewer got hold of the news was a puzzle till it was learned that he had had some dealings with this wire-tapper, who was known to maintain a regular system of wires to be used for stealing information from the telegraph companies. His wires were strung over housetops, through conduits, down waterspouts, inside plumbing, and in every way in side plumbing, and in every which he could facilitate his which he could racilitate his villamous schemes. Both Brewer and he are ex-telegraph operators, and nothing in telegraph is unknown to them.

agency was employed and some of its best men were set to work. Meanwhile the Associated Press did a little detective work on its own account. Just to vary things, dispatches concerning events that existed only in the minds of the Associated Press were sent out and promptly appeared in the Pan-American papers. From the files of the Chicago Times, Tribune and Inter-Ocean in 1872 were taken out and sent unimportant cable items, which were printed as 'news' by the Brewer papers. There was no longer any doubt as to how Brewer got his news.

"A detective made the acquaintance of an employee in Brewer's office and, under the guise of a Southern fruit land agent, rented a deskroom in the office at No. 162 Washington street. It took a long time the guise of a Southern fruit land agent, rented a deskroom in the office at No. 162 Washington street. It took a long time for this man, even with this advantage, to learn the inside of the business.

"The Pan-American," which has since been changed to the 'Union Associated Press' and the 'Eastern Associated Press' successively, had its office in three rooms, Nos. 32, 33 and 34. Two of these rooms had windows opening out into the Herald building. Rooms Nos. 32 and 33 were used as the business office. Room 34 was kept always locked. It was in this room the secret work was dome. Here were the telegraph-instruments and a typewriter, Attached to the instruments were fine copper wires, which at different places had been connected with the Associated Press wires, Apparently there was no connection between room 34 and the other rooms, except for a thick wire which passed through the partition, but which seemed to be connected with a telegraph call box on the wall. In reality this was one of the tapped wires.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15, 1895. everal years ago the suggestion w ie in bank circles that a United State lector of the Port and to the financial institutions of this section. There is also little doubt that the establishment of a subtreasury would be a move on the part of the government of true economy, if figured in dollars and cents, apart from the convenience it would be to the people, as aforesaid. A proper consideration and united action of the bankers composing the Los Angeles Clearing-house might do much toward securing the necessary action on the part of the government, although it must be admitted that the manner in which the present administration has treated Los Angeles in postoffice and other matters is not such as to lend much encouragement to the hope that anything can be accomplished in this line until there is a change at Washington. COMMERCIAL

The winter vegetable industry is steadily growing in this section. Shipments by Wells-Fargo have been larger than in any previous year. For a time shipments were sent in refrigerator cars by freight trains, but it has been found by growers that as a rule it is more profitable for them to pay a little more for freight and send small parcels at a time by rapid transit, so that practically all the versitables them to pay a little more for freight and send small parcels at a time by rapid transit, so that practically all the vegetables which are now sent from Los Angeles go by express. Freight shipments by carload lots will do very well for such vegetables are shipped to Chicago, which is a will not answer at all for tomatoes and strawberries. Most of these winter vegetables are shipped to Chicaga, which is a distributing point for places further east. From Chicago they are sent in what are known as "pony" refrigerators to smaller cities and towns. A good many vegetables are sent to St. Louis and distributed thence in a similar manner.

The rains have seriously injured the tomatoes that were on the vines, and hundreds of tons were lost in this manner. It always happens this way with tomatoes when the rains come on, and so far no means has been found for preventing them from being spoiled. As the crop is a very valuable one, it might perhaps pay to erect over the tomato beds light roofing of shakes or cloth, or something of that kind, before the rainy season commences, although this might interfere with the ripening of the fruit. In the East it is found prefitable to erect acres of glass houses for the purpose of growing fruits and vegetables in winter time. In the south of England and in the Island of Jersey there are also hundreds of agree under glass.

Most of the strawberries shipped so far this year have come from Gardena, a settlement between Los Angeles and Redondo, which has for every!

Most of the strawberries shipped so far this year have come from Gardena, a settlement between Los Angeles and Redondo, which has for several years been reasonable for its strawberry industry, especially for those which are raised early in the season when prices are high. Assas has also been shipping large quantities of berries, and Eagle Rock Valley has sent forward large shipments of tomatoes. Glendora is also an extensive producer of winter vegetables and berries. The Times has often made the assertion that this business of raising winter vegetables is likely, in course of time, to rival the fruit business in importance.

The dispute between the orange-growers who are members of the Southern California exchanges and the commission men still goes on, each claiming that the other is atding in demoralizing the market. The commission men are criticizing the latest auction of oranges, which was held in San Francisco under the auspices of the exchanges. At this auction the prices realized are reported at $1.60 to $2.25 for fancy navels from Ontario, and $1.80 for choice. These sales are certainly low, even in comparison with the f.o.b. prices which have been fixed by the exchanges themselves; but the officials of the exchanges claim that they are forced to protect themselves by making such sales in San Francisco, owing to consignments that are constantly made to San Francisco by persons who are not connected with the exchanges. How long the members of the exchanges will be willing to continue to sell at lower prices than they can get here f.o.b. remains to be seen.

that further developments would be choked off, and that the wells in the city would before many years fall into the hands of stronger companies, who would regulate the production to suit themselves; in short, that the hope which is now entertained of cheap fuel, and consequently of manufacturing enterprises, would not be realized. This opinion is based on the statement that the Producers' Oil Company proposes to put the price of oil up to $1.75 per barrel.

So far as can be learned at present there is no basis whatever for such a supposition as is referred to above. The price of oil is entirely demoralized at present, and it is high time that some organization should step in and handle the product for the producers, so that they may obtain something like a fair price for it. Oil has been selling all the way from 75 cents to $1.50 per barrel, because it has been handled in small lots that were difficult to dispose of. In some cases even less than 75 cents has been accepted. The price of $1.75 would not be at all an unreasonable one, although should the developments of the local off fields continue at the present rate, it might later on be reduced 25 or 50 cents, with advantage to both the producers and the consumers. Before the local strike oil was selling in Los Angeles at $2 per barrel and upward, and a number of local manufacturers found it profitable to use all that could be produced at these figures. As to the monopolizing of the local product, that would not be an easy thing to do, considering that there are thousands of lots in the hands of separate owners, upon which lots oil is likely to be found. Franchises and in case those should go into a combine to exact unreasonable raries, other producers might revert again to the present system of handling the oil in tank wagons. It is one thing to monopolize an oil supply that is located on one or more large tracts of land and depends upon a railroad company to reach a market, but quite another thing to control a supply located within half a mile of the consume pany to reach a market, but quite another thing to control a supply located within half a mile of the consumers, and which is owned by hundreds of different people.

The Times will carefully watch developments in the local oil field, and will report progress from time to time. In this connection it may be mentioned that on Tuesday next, W. L. Watts of the State Associated Bureau, who has been examining the local oil fields, will state the results of his investigations to the Science Association.

London Financial Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The Evening Post's London cablegram says that the strength in the stock market continues. There was a marked improvement in American securities today, notably in Louisville and Illinois Central. The continent is buying a little. The general opinion regards the movement as a mere spurt, however. But some shrewd observers of the American market think, differently, and report signs of buying which might foreshadow a 'lkelihood of a further rise. How L. Harris Tried to Change Some Stolen Goods.

Charles Berkin reported to the police a few days ago that some person had stolen some clothing, etc., from him, and that he had seen a coat and vest of the stolen goods in L. Harris's second-hand store, at No. 115 North Los Angeles street. Among the articles stolen were a leather valise, a suit of black diagonal clothing, a cost and vest of navy blue, a pair of light-striped trousers, a new razor, a black felt hat and a prown-spotted fur robe.

Detectives Auble and Hawley went to Harris's store and at first he admited having received a blue coat and vest, but afterward denied the identity of the person of whom he received the goods. Berkin positively identified the goods there and in court afterward, so the detectives thought "if you see a "fence" go through it." and procured a search warrant. With this they found the coat and vest Berkin identified, but they were dyed black.

But the officers were familiar with that process of changing goods and had the woman who dyed them brought into court. Justice Morrisson heard the testimony through and awarded the coat and vest to the owner, from whom they had been stolen.

Vagrants from Pasadena

CITY AND COUNTY BOULEVARDS

The new Park Commission makes good commencement-at least as fa as ideas are concerned. It is sincerely to be hoped that the proposition made by ex-Mayor Workman will not end talk. Mr. Workman's idea is to have a boulevard at least 100 feet wide, with two lines of shade trees, which shall extend around the city onnecting the various parks along its route, that is to say, the Central, Westlake, Echo. Elysian, East Side and Hollenbeck parks, crossing the river in the southern part of the city at eventh or Ninth streets. The Park Commission adopted resolutions invit ing the co-operation of all property ners on the route to assist in the matter of making the width of the street at least 100 feet and in planting shade trees. The Mayor appointed Messrs. Cross and Workman a committee to prepare a route in conjunc tion with the City Engineer. This boulevard would be a most acceptable addition to the attractions of Los An-

Cities, when they are small and have plents of open space around them, are apt to overlook the necessity for parks and drives until the time arrives when they are densely populated, and then property is so high that it costs hundreds of thousands or even millions of dollars to-secure the necssary land. One of the advantages of such a boulevard as that which is proposed is that it need cost the city or nothing to create. The proerty-owners along the route should be not only willing but anxious to assist in the matter by going to the small expense of widening the streets and planting the trees. If they are awake te their own interests they will certainly do so. When a third-class residence street, upon which frontage is worth perhaps $10 a foot can be transformed at a very small expense into a first-class boulevard upon which lots will readily sell at $25 or $30 a foot, it should not require much argument to convince propertyowners as to the destrability of such an imprevement. One thing must not be overlooked. This is that every year's delay adds to the expense and difficulty of making these improvements, which are admitted by almost every one to be desirable: In connection with this question criber of The Times suggests that series of first-class boulevards might be completed throughout the county at very small expense to the taxpayers in this manner: He would have the county issue $1,000,000 in bonds of small denomination, bearing interest at the rate of 2 per cent., and edeemable in county taxes after three or five years. With the money thus tained the county might put all unmloved citizens of the county at ork and build a series of boulevards hich would greatly enhance the ralue of property, along their routes, that when these bonds had to be redeemed the expense would scarcely be although oranges were never cheaper in that market than during the early pass current in this section and rould serve to increase our circulating medium, which would be another ad-

The Times of January 9, on the authority of a Washington dispatch, quoted Senator Quay as saying that the bill for the improvement of San Pedro Harbor, now lying in commit tee, could be called up at any time, in-timating that this could be done by White as the senior Senator from California and a member of the Committee on Commerce. A private dispatch received from Washington last evening denies that Senator Quay made the statement attributed to him but says that he is for Santa Monica unless inspection changes him, and he believes the committee so feels. Mr. Quay is entitled to the benefit of the above correction, which does not in any case, vitally affect the status of the question. The proposed inspection of the harbor site by the Senate committee will be an unnecessary and ex-pensive junket, as three boards of government engineers have heretofore officially reported in favor of San Pe dro. The people of Los Angeles and Southern California are tired of the needless delay in this matter, and desire action as soon as possible. Sena tor White has here a great oppor

It appears from Dun's review of the nercantile conditions for the year 1894 that the average rate of wages paid during the year was but one-half of 1 per cent. lower than during 1893, of 5% per cent. in the prices of materials that were purchased by wage earners. Thus the purchasing power of wage-earners who were fortunate enough to have work was greater than in the preceding year. But there were hundreds of thousands of able and willing men who were forced to live in idleness during a considerable part of the year, and to these the question of prices had but little relevancy. It is a matter of small consequence to a man how cheap may be the prices of commodities, if he has not the money wherewith to buy them. Plenty of employment for labor. Congressman Springer of Illinois has invited the Republicans of the House to draft a currency bill to take the place of the several propositions now before that body. It is also stated that the administration is desirous that Senator Sherman shall come to the rescue, and has virtually promised to support any measure, if not too radical, that he may bring forward. In all this there is a confession of weakness and incapacity, on the part of the Democracy, to frame a currency bill which will meet present exigencies. The task would better be relegated entirely to the Republicans.

New York has appropriated $30,000, Pittsburgh $18,500, and Newark N. J. $5000 for the manufacture of antitoxine, the new remedy for diphtheria. This may be money well invested, but it would go a long way, if judiciously used, toward preventing diphtheria. If an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, $30,000 worth of protection ought, on the same basis of computation, to be worth about $480,000 worth of cure:

The resignation of Casimir Perier, President of France, which is reported in the foreign dispatches, is a great surprise. His administration, thus far. has apparently been conservative and able. The causes which have impelled him to retire so soon after his accession to the office are not fully apparent at this writing, but are evidently the outgrowth of the dissensions which culminated in the recent resignation of the ministry.

It is reported that large quantities of frozen oranges are being shipped from Florida to Eastern markets. Frozen oranges are said to be not only unhealthful but poisonous, and the authorities of Boston and other Eastern cities are moving to restrict their sale. In another place we print a notable letter from Florida describing the great freeze of December 29.

The Chicago Inter Ocean says that season of 1894-95, they were not in great demand, but that since they have become scarce, because of the Florida freeze, the demand for them has greatly increased. The fact that Chicago Aldermen are quoted at only $600 apiece is attrib ated by the Cincinnati Tribune to the prevailing hard times. This argument is a non sequitur. The low price may be due entirely to an over-supply of the commodity.

Los Angeles street, and the same was granted.

A report was also presented by the Chief, through Secretary Moffatt, on the application of Markwaiter & Althouse for a transfer of salpon license at No. 166 North Main street from Althouse & Rothman. The report stated that the applicant for admission to the firm was only a few days ago arrested for violation of the Sunday-closing ordinance, and afterward in court entered a plea of guilty to the charge, and was fined. He had promised, however, that, if granted the permit asked for, he would carefully obey the law in the future.

action of that but ought not to be too hasty. It appearer to him to be a severe measure to immediately revoke the man's license, and practically confiscate his property after he fild invested a good deal of money in it.

Commissioner Pirtle said there were certain rules and regulations laid down for the government of salcons. A plea of the salcon men that they did not know the rules ought not to be considered, for it was their business to know. He believed the laws should be enforced. If leniency were shown in one case, it would establish a precedent, which would put the commission in an unpleasant position in dealing with future cases. The board must draw the line somewhere.

Mayor Rader said he believed that the salcon men and others should be made to understand that the law must be enforced. He thought, however, that snap judgment in cases like the one under consideration ought not to be taken.

This remark by the Mayor was indorsed by Commissioner Barham, who said he did not know the men in question, but believed their property ought not to be confiscated without due consideration. The salcon men, however, would find no champion in him if they manifested an inclination not to live up to the requirements of the rules and regulations.

"I want to be placed on record," said Commissioner Weber, "as strictly opposed to the violation of the liquor law," Mr. Weber also said that he believed it would be best not to go too fast in acting on such a matter as the one now before the board.

The City Clerk was requested to examine the list of restaurant-liquor licenses to see whether any of them had become defunct. This action was taken at the suggestion of Clerk Parker.

A communication from the City Clerk stated that the portion of Mayor Rader's fnaugural message, recommending that applicants for appointments on the police force be examined as to both their physicat and mental qualifactions, including their knowledge of the geography of the city, and that only such men be retained as pass the examination satisfactorily, had been referred to the board. The matter was laid aside for later consideration.

The demands presented were approved, except one for $113 for gas for the old City Hall for December. The amount was stated to be exorbitant, and the bill was shated for investigation before being approved.

Commissioner Weber inquired if there were any vacancies on the force. He said he had been approached by a large number of men, asking for appointments.

Chief Glass replied that, with the exception of two vacancies, on the special list, there were none.

Commissioner Pirile moved that it be the sense of the board that no removals be made from the force, except for proper cause. Although this motion was not officially adopted it was virtually assented to by the members.

The Mayor remarked that he believed it would be a good thing if some system was to be adopted whereby monthly reports could be presented to the board showing the efficiency and conduct of every officer on the force. A motion embodying the suggestion was adopted.

The matter of issuing permits for carrying concealed weapons was discussed and it was stated by two or three of the members as their opinion that, although there may be some cases where a revolver is needed by a citizen, yet such cases are comparatively; rare.

many places the streets are in such condition that the water is backed up and people, especially women, are put to a great inconvenience in crossing the streets, in places it being almost impossible to get across without rubber boots or without getting one's feet wet.

While this condition prevails during the period of rain another feature which is little less unpleasant is to be noticed afterward. The dirt which is washed into the gutters at various places is carried not infrequently to the point where the water is more or less backed up and there deposited. It assumes a form about like that of wet clay and makes an unpleasant mess to pass through when one attempts to cross the street. It is believed it would be time well spent if the Board of Public Works would drive about the city just after a heavy rain and make a personal investigation of the condition of affairs with a view to, if possible, affording some relief.

It was stated last evening that it is

It has been whispered about the City Hall that an attempt is being made in certain quarters to force the Fire Commission to elect a certain man for the position in question. It will be remembered that at the last meeting of the City Council a number of requisitions from the fire department for various articles were sent back to the Fire Commission for further investigation. A good deal of speculation is resulting from the remark made at the Council meeting to the effect it had been reported that the three new chemical and hose wagons recently received for the department were lacking in important particulars. Whether or not the circulation of such report may have anything whatever to do with the election of a chief of course it is difficult to say, but the very fact it is a mystery causes all the more attention to be attracted to it.

The sending back of certain requisitions presented to the Council by the Fire Commission seems, however, to throw little light on the case. The requisition for harness was returned upon the statement of one of the Councilmen that he believed the harness could be bought for less money. The one presented for repair of fire hydrants was returned because it was stated to be the business of the City Water Company to keep the hydrants in repair.

was stated to be the bushes in water Company to keep the hydrants in repair.

There was also some talk about the City There was also some talk about the City Hall yesterday afternoon of an investigation by the Fire Commissioners of certain charges against Electrician Thye. It was stated that Thye had sold certain supplies belonging to the city, the character of which was not stated, and that they had been sent to San Francisco. It was further stated that City Auditor Teale had written to San Bernardino and ascertained the facts, and that Thye had turned in $46 into the city treasury. Thye had heard the reports, and he says that it is heard the reports, and he says that it is a rival faction that is trying to besmirch his character with a view to securing his removal. At any rate, the Commissioners will probably look into the matter this morning, and, if the facts justify it, a regular investigation will be instituted.

Wants Electric Light Franchise. PETITION PRESENTED TO CITY COUN-CIL. "

E. E. Peck has addressed a communica tion to the City Council in which he says "The undersigned respectfully petitions your honorable body for the right to erect poles and wires for the purpose of furnishing arc and incandescent electric lights in the southwest portion of the city, commencing at the limits and extending from Westlake Park to the southern limits and so far toward the central portion of the city as your body deems fit."

Says it Did Him an Injustice. President Teed of the City Council said yesterday that an injustice had been done him in the article published in yesterday's him in the article published in yesterday's Times relative to his action at Monday's Council meeting in the case of the request of City Assessor Hull to be authorized to employ certain deputies. His action in the matter, Mr. Teed said, was like that of other members of the Council, and was based on a desire to bring out the truth as to whether or not it would be economy to allow the deputies asked for. His action was entirely independent of any feeling he might have toward any of the gentlemen whom Mr. Hull had appointed as his deputies.

Adjourned Council Meeting.

The City Council is to have an adjourned meeting this afternoon, at which there is to be a conference between the Council and the Board of Education in Council and the Board of Education in the matter of the additional school facilities needed in various portions of the city to accommodate the children of school age not now properly provided for. It is expected the school board will present a recommendation for new school buildings and enlargement of old ones, based on an investigation made by the members of the board during the last few days.

Anti-toxine in Town.

Health Officer Powers has obtained a small quantity of anti-toxine, the new diphtheria remedy. It was sent from the Pasteur Institute in New York, and was secured for this city through the couriesy of Dr. Rene, the Health Officer of Sna Bernardino. It is kept on ice and will keep in proper condition for use for about two weeks. There is sufficient to inoculate two patients.

LOS ANGELES, Jam. 16, 1895. Dear Sir: We inclose herewith a list of the members of both houses of Congress. Will you please look it over carefully, and see whether there are any with whom you are acquainted, to whom you might write immediately in the int of San Pedro Harbor you might write immediately, in the interest of San Pedro Harbor?

You are presumably acquainted with the outrage that is being practiced on the people of Southern California, with regard to this much-meeded improvement. For the fourth consecutive time, a measure, calling for an appropriation for the construction of a deep-sea harbor in Los Angeles county, has come before the Senate Committee on Commerce. It is conceded by all members of that committee, and by Senators and Representatives generally, that Southern California is entitled to an appropriation for this purpose, but every time the measure has approached a vote, an objection has been interposed that the barbor should be located in the vicinity of the Southern Pacific wharf at Santa Monica, instead of at San Pedro.

Three separate times competent boards of United States engineers, have been sent out to this Coast, to cettle the question of a location, and every time a unanimous report has been made in favor of San Pedro. In ceutiless ways the people of this section have shown that they are in favor of the latter location. Resolutions have been passed by every body of importance on the Coast, including repeated votes by the Chamber of Commerce of this city, by the Transmississippi Congresses, by the Southern California boards of supervisors, beards of trade and other organizations. The press of this city is practically unanimous in favor of that site, and but one power appears which favors Santa Monica, and that power is the Southern Pacific corporation of Kentucky.

favors Santa Monica, and that power is the Southern Pacific corporation of Kentucky.

The harbor at San Pedro will be a free, open harbor, for the benefit of all the people. The harbor at Santa Monicatif twere possible that a port should be constructed at that point—would be for the sole use and benefit of the Southern Pacific corporation. No one pretends to question this who is conversant with the facts. This corporation is not strong enough to get any measure through Congress appropriating money for its harbor at Santa Monica, even if they had the unanimous backing of the people of this section. Those who understand the situation most thoroughly maintain that Mr. Huntington, experienced lobbyist us he is, certainly does not charish a hope that the can secure action from Congress havorable to his scheme, but that his sole purpose in the matter at the present time is to put off the construction of any harbor whatever, in order that the growth of Southern California, which is the only section of the State that enjoys the advantage of a competing railway, may be retarded, and that the Southern Pacific may, lose some of its deep-sea traffic which now comes into San Francisco,

Debs's Latest manifesto. (Chicago Tribune.). From his comforta-ble quarters in the jail at Woodstock, Eu-gene V. Debs has issued another mani-festo to the American people. Debs is not happy unless he is engaged in sending out manifestos to the American people. This time he announces to the people that he goes to jail conscious that he has only done his duty; that candor compels him to characterize the whole business as inassociates are "the mere instrumentanties in the evolutionary processes in operation through which industrial slavery is to be abolished and economic freedom established. Then the starry banner will symbolize, as it was designed to symbolize, social, religious and economic entancipation from the thraildom of tyranny, oppression and degradation."

Mr. Debu's manifesto is rhetorical and high-flying and all that, but it does not get down to the merits of the question.

Mr. Debs's manifesto is rhetorical and high-flying and all that, but it does not get down to the merits of the question. He is in jail because he openly and willfully violated the laws of the land, and in deflance of an order of the court which had jurisdiction. Did he have an abiding faith in the American people, or did he think he was doing his duty when, last cummer, acting upon his instructions, he was interfering with the trafisportation of the United States mails, with the transportation of freight, and with thirght of the American people to go from one place to amother on business or pleagure? "Our cause is that of conscience or liberty of any other sort to lay his hands upon property in the hands of United States authorities, in defiance of the orders of United States court to keep his hands of? Does he think that "we, the people," sustain the action of his dupes, who last summer, influenced by him and his associates, mobbed and heat trainmen and bunned millioss of property? If he does, he has a singular idea of the American people.

The Little Republic of Costa Rica Has Started the Great Enterprise.

Slight Washouts on the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific—Mr. S. B. Hynes to be Promoted— An Excursion

The surveys of the Intercontinental Railway have borne fruit and to Cosfa Rica belongs the honor of being the first of the Central American republics to avail herself of the work done. That little republic has granted a concession of public lands to an English syndicate for the construction of a railroad from the Rio Jimenes on the Atlantic railroad, to the Rio Fria, at the mouth of the San Juan River on Lake Nicaragus, a distance of eighty-six miles. This road, when completed, will be the first link in the great chain of railroads that will units the chain of railroads that will units the North, Central and South American re-publics, an enterprise that has been pro-nounced perfectly feasible by engineers, and particularly desirable in the interests of peace and commerce.

A letter received in this city yesterday om a friend of the recipient, who is engaged in orange culture in Florida, inengaged in orange culture in Florida, indicates that the railroads, in making a 50 per cent. cut in rates, did so with very good cause. The writer states that he did not believe there was a really sound orange in the State, and furthermore, and contrary to the reports being spread abroad, the young trees had been nipped severely. The pineapples also had suffered, the plants being in many instances utterly destroyed. This account bears out the statements set forth in another letter received about a week ago.

ONLY SLIGHT WASHOUTS REPORTED. If the heavy rains should continue to-day washouts on both the Southern Pacific and Southern California roads will most probably be serious. So far they have been of an insignificant character but the earth is now soaked and a continued downfail will mean destruction to some portions of the roadbed. On the Southern Pacific slight damage was reported yesterday morning from White Water and El Casco, the track being washed away in both places. A couple of hours, however, set things to rights and trains kept up the schedule.

On the Southern California road the track suffered at Rincon and also at Cana Blanco, but these, too, were not of a serious nature. The overland was delayed for a couple of hours but by noon all trains were again moving.

THAT "VOTING TRUST."

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The World says:
"Re is probable that the so-called 'voting trust,' which has long controlled the elections on the Ontario and Western Railroad Company, will soon be done away with. It is learned that President Fowler of the Ontaria and Western, will said for Europe in a few days to consult with English stockholders, with a view to providing a small dividend paid on common stock this spring. The road is not able to pay a regular dividend, but if the haangement can find some way to declare a dividend, however, small, on the common stock, that will be enough to end the days of the voting trust, the voting power having been placed in the hands of trustees until such time as a dividend shall be declared on the common stock."

RAIN STILL FALLING IN SOUTH-ERN CALIFORNIA.

Indications that the Storm Will Continue Today—No Damage of any Great Importance Reported.

While it might be desirable that the country should enjoy a short season of fair, warm weather in order to obtain the best crop results it does not seem as if such a blessing was to be vouchsafed. From reports sent into the Weather Office from various points on the Pacific Coast it would not be at all surprising if a severe storm would disturb the equanimity of temper of the citizens of Southern California today. Along the Pacific Coast cloudy weather prevailed during the twenty-four hours ending at 5 p.m. last examing, save in Southern California, where rain fell. The winds were south or southeasterly, with low baremetric pressure along the entire Coast. At Eureka the barometer registered 29.14; Rossburg, 23.25; Sacramento, 29.50; San Francisco, 29.50. In Southern California it ranged low, but higher than in the morth. At Les Angeles it was 29.77, and at San Diego 29.30.

The rainfall in Los Angeles since the sterm commenced has amounted to a precipitation of 1.90 inches, making 8.39 inches for the season. At San Diego the rainfall amounted during the storm to 2.08 inches, and at San Luis Obispo to 1.04 inches.

The storm began yesterday and continued in a heavy downpour throughout the night. The rainfall amounted to 1:67 inches. Indications point to more rain.

Reports from county towns are to the effect that the rainfall was very heavy everwhere. As far as can be learned no great damage was done. A small washout occurred on the Santa Fe road at Cam-Blanca, but was quickly regaired.

San Bernardino County. SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 15.—In the last thirty-six hours two inches of rain has fallen. A warm southwest wind has caused the snow to melt on the mountains, swelling the water in the Santa Ana River to a food. This evening the bridge over the Santa Ana River on the loop line Santa Fe Railroad has gene cut, also about fifty feet of the county bridge between Colton and Riverside. This will be the extent of the damage, unless the debyte of the stream lodges grainst other bridges.

FLORIDA WAS HARD HIT.

THE LATE FREEZE RUINED OR-ANGE ORCHARDS.

The Havoc Wrought on the Twentyninth of December Made a "Black Friday" for Fruit and Veg-etable Growers.

FORT MEADE (Fla.,) Jan. 9.—(Correspondence Chicago Times:) "This is the worst blow Florida has ever received," and a prominent orange-grower to your

Park and a prominent fruit-grower of that neighborhood, a man as competent to give an intelligent review of the situation as any in the State, said: "I see nothing in it but gloom and discouragement. Of course, a man who saw $35,000 worth of property swept away in a single night cannot be expected to take a very roseate view of the dispensation—but, looking at it in its best light after this, fruit-growing in Florida will be nothing but a lottery—you may not have another freeze in fifty years; probably you will not, but then you may. What has happened once may again. The element of uncertainty has been introduced, and I fear will operate to keep back the stream of immigration which has just begun flowing in here and which we were glad to welcome. The low price of oranges for several years back has depreciated the price of orange groves terribly, and I consider that this freeze has ruined the industry entirely, as well as the growing of every other product that frost will injure. I will sell out my groves at the first offer. As for the vegetable-growers, I do not pity them so much. Flerida is liable to frost any winter, and they take their chances, but frost does not injure oranges—it is only a terrible freeze like this that does."

It is but just to Mr. Batchelor to say that in making the above remarks he was not aware that he was talking for publication.

Barton is the center of a vegetable-raising industry, tomatoes, soup beans, and egaplants being the leading products grown. These were cut off. One man had been offered $4000 for his crop of tomatoes, then ready to pick, a few days before the freeze came, but refused it and lost everything. At Fort Meade, one of the outposts of the Seminole war and so far south that they rarely have killing "freezes," are many large groves of extreme age for Florida—that is, from fifty to seventy-five years—but last Saturday morning the oranges were frozen solid, with the mercury at 18 deg., and the trees today pregent a sorry spectacle—the leaves witting and turning yellow i

The Oregon State Agricultural College is an admirable institution. Among its best features is an excellent cooking school. Professor of Chemistry G. W. Corvallis, Ore., Jan. 31, 1894. This is to certify that I have made Chemical analysis of the leading Baking Powders sold in this market and that as a result of such analysis I find Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder to contain the highest percentage of carbonic acid gas of all. Facts of the Long Beach Tragedy.

Trial of Ethan Allen Feeler, One of the Alleged Murderers, Commenced.

The Deposition of Miss Lowe Detailing the Incidents Immediately After the Shooting-The Testimony.

The trial of the case against Ethan Allen ler, one of the two men accused of murder of Camille Elikan at Long on the night of November 22 last. was commenced before Judge Smith and jury in Department One yesterday after-whole of the morning session was devoted to the work of selecting the five urors necessary to complete the panel, rom the thirty talesmen who appeared in esponse to the special venire. The jury as finally agreed upon and sworn to try the case was made up as follows: J. F. Bangham, J. W. Beede, C. Brode, G. Charnock, A. H. Edwards, J. H. Harmon, E. Hartup, C. Heath, S. K. Kleinfelter, A Phelps, S. C. Ruddock, and W. R. Steel.

defendant's counsel renewed their objections of the preceding day and moved the court to discharge the jury on the ground that all the term trial jurors in attendance upon the Superior Court had not been drawn in this case. The motion was, however, promptly overruled, and after the case for the prosecution had been briefly outlined to the jury by H. C. Dillon, Esq., a recess was declared until 1:30 o'clock.

MISS LOWE'S DEPOSITION.

Upon reconvening at that hour the prosecution opened its case by reading to the jury the deposition of Miss Ethel Lowe of Long Beach, taken at the preliminary examination. It was to the effect that after closing up his store at 9 o'clock on the evening of November 22 last, Ellkan called upon her and proposed a stroll. It was his habit to balance his cash every evening and to assort the day's receipts according to the various denominations, in small sacks. These he invariably placed in a hand satchel, which he carried to his room for security when he retired. On that evening he had this satchel with him, but placed it just inside the front door of the house upon starting for a door of the house upon starting for a walk. They returned shortly before 10 autopsy, being unable to attend on account of sickness, W. W. Lowe, the father of the young lady, whose deposition was read to the jury, was called. He fully corroborated the statement made by his daughter, and explained fully and elaborately to the jury every detail of a diagram of the premises which was exhibited for their benefit.

It was further shown by Mr. Lowe that about an hour after the dying man had been carried into his house, both of the defendants, Feeler and Healey, appeared upon the scene. The former volunteered the statement that while he and Healey were in the rear of Elimwood cottage, where they roomed, they heard a shot, rushed out and saw a man running down the alley. That they both gave chase, followed the man to American avenue, thence to the steps of the bath-house, down to the beach, when the stranger threw a satchel into the ocean. That Healey then stopped but that he followed the man across the bluff toward the Alamitos ranch house, until the stranger cut a horse loose from a tree and rode off. As such a trip as that described by Feeler would necessitate a run of at least three miles, Lowe's suspicions were aroused, and he suggested to some of the crowd that it would be a good scheme for them to take Feeler along with them over the route he had given and investigate his story, which they did.

A SACKFUL OF EXHIBITS. A sackfull of exhibits was produce A sackfull of exhibits, was produced by Mr. Dillon at this juncture, and the witness readily identified from among them, Elikan's satchel, keys, and some primitive sandbags made out of socks. He also picked out one of Feeler's shoes, which fitted exactly the track of a man found near the shed in the rear of the store on the night of the murder.

Lawrence T. Healey was then called, but LATER.—3 a.m. The Socialist members in the Chamber of Deputies have issued a manifesto saying that they do not believe that M. Casimir-Perier will present himself for re-election. The manifesto adds: "He is done forever; vanquished by socialism. He failed in the combat to obtain the victory expected of him by the reactionaries, on account of his weakness of character. It is a victory for the Socialist party. Wishing to struggle against us he finds only rotten instruments. He perished through the corruption of the regime of which he was chief. The Monarchist organs assert that the republic is pasing through a period of difficulty which pasing through a period of difficulty which may assume grave proportions and involve the Elysee. The Moderate Republican press has an unanimous tribute to the correctness and clearness of the attitude of ex-Premier Dupuy, who has fallen, it is asserted, only because he was determined to safeguard the constitutional principles. Many persons blame M. Barthou, ex-Minister of Public Works, for not having shown the same reserve as M. Dupuy. The consensus of opinion is that the only possible solution of the difficulty is a Republican concentration under M. Bourgeois.

They Will not be Taken Back to Kansas is beeding again, not from the contentions on the battlefield of politics that have discredited her abroad and reduced some of her counties to beggary. Detective George Insley, after a two-years' watch, at last captured two desperadoes that the sheriffs of both Rice and McPherson counties are aching to possess themselves of, and when he telegraphed to Sherdif Foster at Lyons, that gentleman replied that he would have to decline the prisoners for the reason that Rice county cannot afford to send an officer here after them. The doings of Titus Henry Wood, and of his brother were told in yesterday's Times, and already tharges of various critines have been pouring in from wherever they have been thick and fast. Deputy Sheriff Frank Dowler says he can easily bring a handful of charges against them, from his personal knowledge, and all this goes to corroborate their desperate Eastern record of highway robbery and general thievery.

But the fact that any county in any State in this Union is too poor to intercept and punish its criminals is lamentable, and any unprejudiced Kansan will attribute at the tach that any county in any State in this Union is too poor to intercept and punish its criminals is lamentable, and any unprejudiced Kansan will attribute at the tach the political misrule and anarchy that has been rampant there of late years. To go back to the beginning, the first sectiors of Kansas were a lot of steady old ploneers, but, after the war, numbers of young men just from their regiments made the State their home, and, like the ancient Athenians Faul speaks of, they were eternally on the Jockout for something new if it "broke" them to get it. They got their latest fever, and it has "broken" them. The doings of the past few years in which all kinds of havebrained schemes have been exploited are matters of record.

The fact alone that a lot of wild-eyed "financiers" had made a threat to get possession of the refins of power and repudiate debts, public and private, so discredited Kansas abroad, and even Prefect of the Seine. M. Lecques had a long conversation with M. Perier, the re-sult of which is not known.

A second official note was issued at 11 o'clock tonight, announcing the resigntion of the President and forecasting the ideas dent, yesterday's sitting of the Chamber and the vote which overthrew the Cabi-net were only secondary incidents of the struggle which is proceeding against the parliamentary regime and public liberties.

M. Casimir-Perier had hoped that the President of the republic, who is deprived of means of action, would have been exempted from party attacks, and the especial confidence of the Republicans would have accorded him power and authority. He had hoped those who, despite himself, had placed him in a position where he was unable to defend himself, would have

Then, with plenty of water, use the finest sponge by pressing the water against the body until the dirt flows off, Do not rub the dirt into the varnish or get the sponge filled with it. After the dirt is washed off the body, dry it nicely with the damp chamois. Then wet the gear and wheels in a similar way. Do not scrape the mud off with a knife or chip. ANNUAL MEETING OF THE UNI-VERSALIST CHURCH.

Preparing for Church Extension-Mortality in January—Events Spoiled by Bain—Briefs and Personals.

PASADENA, Jan. 15.—(Special Correpondence.) Despite the bad weather nearly fifty parishioners met in the vestry of the Universalist Church, Monday evening, on the occasion of the annual election. The ladies of the church had prepared an excellent supper which was partaken of and discussed before the business session was opened. As a result of the election of irustees the following named were chosen, all but three being new: J. Wadsworth, Mrs. William Stanton, F. R. Harris, Dr. T. S. Greene, J. D. Gaylord, J. C. Cahill, F. C. Monroe, Miss Lydis Pike, D. C. Foster. The board organized by electing J. Wadsworth, moderator; J. C. Cahill, secretary; F. C. Monroe, clerk; F. R. Harris, treasurer. The reports from all departments showed the church to be in an excellent condition, better financially than everbefore. During the past year 172 new members have joined the church. The church in its interior appointments and furnishing is greatly improved and is now quite comfortably equipped. The committee in charge of the organ fund reported the entire organ debt canceled, all subscriptions having been received.

According to the records of the Health officer the deaths from consumption in his city during the present month—num-pering, eight since the 1st inst.—have exceeded the rate of any similar period of time. It would be interesting to know, time. It would be interesting to know, in considering this mortality, what proportion of incurable cases of tuberculosis come hither in the last stages of that dread disease. It is a fact known to all physicians, managers of sanitariums and most observant people who have opportunity for taking cognizance of such facts, that by far the greatest number of consumptives do not travel to better climes in search of benefit until they are so far gone that recovery is hopeless and only prolongation of life can be secured at most. It is this fact that swells the mortality reports of most Southern Californis cities, and makes it unfair to compare data with the Eastern cities whence the invalids fiee in search of more salutious climates. It was developed at a recent meeting of physicians in this city that the doctors disagree as to the perfect conditions existing heresbut for the current of recommendation in any savance.

A BOLD BURGLARY COMMITTED AT SANTA ANA.

Denby, the Murderous Tramp, Con-victed—The Banks of the Santa Ana Biver are Again Broken.

The thief or thieves effected an entrance through a rear door by cutting through the screen and then, prying through the inner door with a heavy piece of wagon tire. Upon gaining entrance several bureau drawers were ranheavy piece of wagon tire. Upon gaining entrance several bureau drawers were ransacked, but nothing of material value was found there. Then the beds were raided and there the thieves found a bag with about $40 in it, which had been saved by Mr. and Mrs. Jones for their little four and one-half-year-old girl. As soon as the little girl would be 5 years old Mr. Jones intended to place the money in bank to the little one's credit.

Today the officers arrested a young man who had been employed by Mr. Jones in the hotel as dishwasher, on suspicion of being the party who committed the theft, but as yet the young man has not been charged with the crime. KELLER, THE PEG-LEG.

James Keller, the peg-leg, who is known all over Southern California by the police, James Keller, the peg-leg, who is known all over Southern California by the police, is in durance vile in this city. He is a dead, hard character and nobody knows it better than he himself. He has but one good leg and yet the artificial one—the wooden one—is the source of his daily income, There is not a day, perhaps, when Keller is out of jail, when he does not make that old wooden leg earn him a good round day's salary, only to be used in securing the wine that is red or in purchasing a pointer in some game of chance which happens to meet his fancy. His plan of work is simple, but very effective. When about two-thirds full of whisky he quickly assumes a far-away look in his eyes, and then hobbling straight up to some unsuspecting pedestrian or business man, he piteously pleads for a small coin to help in the purchase of a new wooden leg. That is nearly always a "fetcher" and consequently old "Peg-leg" hobbles away to catch another "sucker," after which he visits a near-by resort and lives like a king, drinking only the finest and highest-priced mixtures of the day.

But this erratic individual is now in trouble. He has been lounging around Santa Ana for the past two weeks and to all appearances has been the chief of a gang of hard-looking fellows, who have been committing numerous depredations on the outskirts of the city.

HELP SECURE ATHLETIC GROUNDS.

The Orange County Wheelmen, an organization recently formed in this city, is making an effort to secure athletic grounds near this city. It is the purpose of the organization to secure the use of a tract of eight acres of land, just east of the Southern Pacific depot, inclose it with a high board fence, erect a large amphitheater, construct a bleyole track and make such other improvements as would tend to make the grounds of especial interest to the lovers of legitimate sport. The enterprise is a commendable one, and is deserving of success. Already a considerable sum of money has been subscribed by public-spirited citizens in the way of taking a few shares of stock in the organization, but more of such men are needed just at this time. A little more money is needed to make the enterprise go, and it is meeded badly. The citizens should not let the opportunity pass to assist in the establishment of good athletic grounds. The street-railway company can afford to do handsomely by the enterprise in the way of taking several life membership shares, as the successful operation of the grounds wills add materially to the patronage of the street railway.

The difference between the two propositions would amount to $30,000 a year to the city. There is a marked disposition on the part of the majority of the Water Committee to throw obstacles in Mr. Grant's way, and the people are beginning to show resentment and ill-temper therest. The heart of the city—in fact within a block of the Methodist Church, which stands at the corner of Frurth and D streets. The impotence of the present Common Council was clearly shown—an impotence repeatedly exposed by The Times. In the face of expostulations by the Police Commissioners, the Chief of Police and other officials, this Council permits debauchery shops to exist and corrupt the old as well as the young. Decent citizens regard the inaction of the Council as simply shameful. Fear of losing the liquor vote is ascribed as the cause for this inaction.

Should the bill pass the Legislature and become a law, the present system of district-fair associations will be done away with, and the small appropriations distributed among the counties will be massed in one appropriation for a fair to be held annually in this city.

Under the present system an annual appropriation is made for a State fair at Sacramento, and small appropriations are made for the district fairs in each of the counties. By reason of the distance, the southern portion of the State has little representation at Sacramento, and the lack of concentration prevents much from being accomplished at the district fairs. Parents should begin at the first symptom of such tendency to change this unfortunate habit of the body. The real nerve food, Paine's celery compound, if used with the attention to regularity that any able physician's prescription requires—(this remarkably effective blood-maker and nerve food is the formula of no less eminent a scientist than Prof. Edward E. Do not waste cast-off clothing. "Economy is the road to wealth." It also enables those already wealthy to help the destitute. Save from moth and mold your old, partially-worn clothing, children's clothing, or any garments that can be made over into children's clothing. Anything of this description left at the Times business office will be useful in supplying these much in need. No matter how small the amount you have, or how badly worn, it will be useful to those with no money to buy new. DR. CHAPMAN'S MEETINGS.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS AFTER-NOON AND EVENING.

Talks on the Ministry of the Holy Spirit Continued—"Mighty to Save" the Subject at Night.

Dr. Chapman continued his meetings at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday, and spoke to good audiences, both after-noon and evening, in spite of the unpleasant weather.

At the afternoon service the talks on the "Ministry of the Holy Spirit" were continued, taking as his theme the differthe "Ministry of the Holy Spirit" were continued, taking as his theme the different kinds of power which it imparts.

"After the resurrection," said the speaker, "Jesus spoke of the results of the Holy Ghost, which should come with the Pentecost, meaning the power which should descend upon the disciples. The natural man could not conceive or think of the things which God has prepared, and which are revealed by the Holy Spirit, thus we receive the power to perceive, and the power to realize, for while it is the savior's work to bring us to heaven, it is the work of the Holy Spirit to bring heaven to us, and put it into our hearts.

"After having perceived and realized, we receive the power to assimilate. The soul will make the body and countenance like itself. The divine spirit enables us to incorporate the truth of God into our immortal being, and by this all unpleasant characteristics can be taken away, and a being formed which is the likeness of Jesus Christ. As an inevitable result, we have power with God. The spirit of Christ is an intercessory power, and a Christ-like character is a perpetual intercession.

Christ-like character is a perpetual intercession.

"God made prayer a means to secure results. 'Whatever ye ask in My name,' He says, 'shall be granted unto you.' This does not mean that whatever we ask for we shall have. God says no, sometimes, but if we have this indwelling spirit we will not be likely to make such prayers, for Christ dwelling in us will prompt us to pray for what God can grant.

"If we want to have this power with God, you must live close to Him. Allow the Holy Spirit to fill you with His light and blessing. Live by day and night for Jesus's sake, and you will have no trouble in presenting prayers which are acceptable."

In the evening Dr. Chapman based his remarks upon the words "Mighty to save."

remarks upon the words "Mighty to save." The speaker said:

"Infinite wisdom was put to its utmost resources to devise the plan of salvation. We have become accustomed to the question of atonement, but infinite wisdom planned it, infinite love carried it out, and infinite power pledged it. That is why Jesus is mighty to save. Can we look on the might, majesty and power divine which was in creation without realizing the might of God? And all this might and power is pledged to effect this scheme of human redemption.

"If any one desires to lead a Christian life, and is consciour of sin, is it a weak salvation which is offered? No! A Savior stands ready to aid them, who as omnipotent, strong to deliver. Who is mighty to save, because He can deliver from powers which defy all other influences. The human heart is beyond human remedy. Men have tried culture, education and cevelopment, without avail. Nothing can cleanse it but the divine power which comes from without and enters in.

"We think of Jesus as one who saves from eternal death, but this is because He saves from sin. Sin contaminates and stains every part of our nature. A spoken, or a lived lie, an unholy thought or impure desire, evil associations, all enter into our desire, evil associations, all enter into our every part of our nature. A spoken, or a lived lie, an unholy thought or impure desire, evil associations, all enter into our being. Man filled with iniquity cannot cleanse a spot, but, bowing at the mercy-seat, he receives a cleansing which makes him pure in the sight of God. And it is a grad, glorious truth that the power and dominion of sin is conquered by the indwelling of the Holy Spirit.

"I hold up a Savior who can break every chain, and make noble and grand men and women of the fallen. He can lift you to, a new nature, give you a new heart. Will you let Him do it?"

THE CHINESE FIGHTS.

Latest Developments in the War Between the Rival Tongs.

The plot thickens in the Chinese faction fights, and more conservative Chinamen, not members of the highbinder tongs, ex-press grave fears as to the result. A few days ago Lee Ding, a Hop Sing highhinder, was acquitted of the charge of attempting to murder Luey Foo, a Bing On retainer, and day before yesterday Wong Chee, a leader of the Bing On Tong, was arrested charged with having committed perjury charged with having committed perjury at the trial. He is out on $500 bail.

On the acquittal of Lee Ding several Bing Ons tried to take it out on Ham Ah Lock, down on Apablasa atreet, and showed their fine oriental markesmanship by firing fifteen or eighteen shots at him without a hit. Three of them were caught. Yesterday Ham Ah Lock swore out a complaint charging Lee Kim, Luey Foo and Ah Young with assault with a deadly weapon. Justice Owens arraigned the prisoners and held them for examination on January 19 at 2 p.m., with bail at $3000 each. This was reduced to $1500 each, and Wong Chee and others went their bond for the full $4500 required.

Interested Chinese say they were taken out of durance for the avowed purpose of "cleaning out" the Hop Sing household and killing off the witnesses against them, and the police patrolling the district look for a general fight at any moment, in which several heathens may be killed.

As a matter of fact, Chinatown is terrorized at present by these tong fights, and few denizens go out on the streets. Any time one of them goes out, who can afford it, he takes two or three guards along at his heels for protection. Business is very dull down among these people, and not until these gentry with a thirst for gore get to work and exhaust themselves in a big wind-up fight, will there be any peace, because "for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain the heathen Chinee is peculiar." and the police cannot be aware of their secret movements except through a traitor or a rival informer.
